FOREWORD

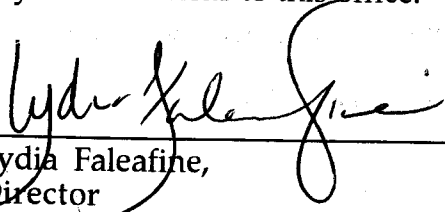

The Economic Development Planning Office (EDPO) is pleased to present the twelfth annual publication of the territory's official statistical abstract, "The 1989 Statistical Digest of American Samoa."

The EDPO wishes to warmly thank the many government agencies and private businesses and individuals who contributed greatly in the provision of data and tables. Without their unwavering cooperation every year, past, present and future publications would not be possible. Although these contributors are too numerous to mention here, they are acknowledged in source references of the data they supply.

Emphasis in the statistical digest is given to the most recent available economic and social data. The agencies acknowledged in the source references at the end of each table have additional statistical details and more comprehensive discussions of relevant definitions and concepts than can be presented here. Persons interested in more extensive information should consult or write to those agencies.

We sincerely hope the business community and various users will find this digest useful and informative. We welcome any comments and suggestions for improvement of the statistical digest series. A self-addressed suggestion and comment sheet is provided on the last page for your use. Please submit your comments to this office.

Soifua.

GUIDE TO TABULAR PRESENTATION

The following symbols used in the tables throughout this publication, are explained in enclosed form in footnotes to the tables where they appear.

- represents zero or rounds to less than half the unit of measurement shown
- .. not available or not applicable
- r revised
- p provisional

Headnotes immediately below table titles provide information important for correct interpretation or evaluation of the table as a whole or for a major segment of it.

Unit indicators (In thousands, "In millions of dollars," etc.) are usually given as the first element of the headnote. In tables where several units are used, the unit indicators are generally given in the stub in the column headings.

Footnotes below the bottom rule of tables give information relating to specific items, figures or symbols within the table.

In many tables, details will not add exactly to the totals shown due to rounding.

All annual statistics should be understood as referring to calendar years unless otherwise indicated.

POPULATION

The 1989 mid-year population estimate for American Samoa is 38,200, an increase of about 1.9 percent since 1988 and 16.5 percent since 1980. The new projections prepared using the FIVFIV/SINSIN program showed much lower projections than those published in previous editions. The decline in age-specific fertility rates and continuous out-migration contributed to these lower projections. The projected population for 1990 is about 39,000 and more than 45,000 in the year 2000.

The Eastern District still constituted more than 50 percent of the population of Tutuila although there has been a general trend toward the Western District (36 percent in 1974 to 41 percent in 1980). The Manu'a District remained at about 5 percent of the population for the territory. Population density is about 77 percent higher in the Eastern District than in the Western District, and Manu'a has about one-tenth as many persons per square mile as the Eastern District.

The population is young but is gradually getting older, with the median age increasing from 17 years in 1974 to 20 years in 1985. Males continued to outnumber females by 51 percent to 49 percent. About 42 percent of the population age 15 years and older were not married in 1985 compared to 28 percent in 1980. Single mean age at first marriage also went up from 25 years in 1980 to 27 years in 1985.

About 58.3 percent of the population were born in American Samoa in 1985 compared to 57.5 percent in 1980. Of the 41.7 percent foreign-born (13,415 persons) in 1985, about 71 percent were born in Western Samoa followed by 19 percent and 10 percent born in the United States and other Countries respectively. Samoan still remained the dominating single ethnic group (91 percent) in the territory.
